Nisan-Iyar, a portion of the first and second month on the Biblical lunisolar calendar.

Here, you can read this year's Barley Abib reports and other Scriptural indicators that affirm we are currently in the second month. I cover the difference between Josephus's witness of the Nisan Sun in Aries in his days and the Sun's current position in Aries in the second month in our days, in the first 10 minutes of this video.

Content

- On the calendar of early Iyar, we see the redemption of Rahab and her household noted this Friday, at which time Nehemiah finished restoring Jerusalem's walls also. As the bride's redemption draws near and kingdoms clash in the spiritual and natural realm, ruling scepters are exchanged in favor of those walking closely in the Lord's footsteps. With the barley harvest in Israel in full swing, we see its promising reflections in Scripture and in the heavens. The Lord lovingly beckons us to fully surrender, trust, and obey him as we move forward into our eternal inheritance.
- Heavenly signs for this weekend's high watch. This sabbath could mark the commemoration of David's priestly strengthening, as recorded in 1 Samuel 21. We can discern the resemblance with the Swedish boy's vision concerning the training and equipping of the Lord's end times harvesters, modelled by David and his men.
- The purposefully planned wedding of William and Kate on April 29th, 2011, mirrored the heavens above them. A similar picture unfolds in the heavens this weekend, amidst heavy warfare, at the start of Noah's ark days.
- Heavenly signs May 1st – May 9th
- Update April 25th: Matters of our heart. To surrender more fully and renew our strength by his leading.
- Resources about the key topics marked on the calendar. Rather than writing everything out, you can search by topic, as led. I will cover the key topics in an upcoming video also.

The main message of this article, as always, is to be ready spiritually, for the Lord is at the door.

He will come shortly, to rescue his overcomers and the innocent in Christ, but also to discipline the lukewarm, the wayward, and the lost to wholeheartedly repent, trust and obey Him.

Walking along the heavenly red carpet this weekend

Including alignments regarding a possible fulfillment of the Swedish boy's vision

1 / 18

As shared prior, the boy's vision speaks of a Friday morning gathering of the Lord's end times harvesters (Revelation 14:4) at 7:00 Swedish time, final warnings being issued on the subsequent Saturday, and a Sunday first departure (rapture), as I understand it.

- I have written about the Swedish boy's vision before, here.
- A word-for-word translation of the boy's vision can be reviewed here, a synopsis here (Tim Foster)
- To also consider: a past video and accompanying set of study notes by Tim Foster on the topic, plus a flanking prophetic dream about the training of the harvesters. This group is also found in 2 Esdras, as Tim Foster explains in this video and the set of accompanying study notes.
- Here, in this prophetic word by Julie Wedbee, you can read more about the different groups of bridal believers.
- Note, if you watch the video of the young Swedish boy's vision, you will hear the Father speak about 'Friday the 30th of March'. His son only speaks only of a Friday-Sunday timeframe, without mentioning a month or date; this was added by the father.

Enemy wedding planners | 'As above, so below'

In this article, I describe why the royal wedding of William and Kate was purposefully scheduled to take place on April 29th 2011 at 11:11 on the restored Cosmati Pavement in Westminster Abbey during the spring satanic 'High Days'. In short, the earthly wedding of the satanic elite's hopeful reflected the Sun's alignment with Aries' head star Hamal and the Moon's red carpet stride of redemption in Pisces, underneath the Great Square of Pegasus.

This Friday, the Sun will align with Aries' head star Hamal in the Bridegroom's yearly trajectory, at which time the Moon bride approaches Leo's harvest sickle and enters the Shiloh constellation, the representation of heavenly Jerusalem. On April 29th, the Moon aligns with the scepter star Regulus (ruler), reflective of Esther 5:2 and Genesis 49:10.

A promising picture and call to arm up and pray!

Worldly kingdoms and perishing crowns

Babylon is fallen!

Babylon's 70 years will likely formally end with Charles' coronation after Second Passover, coinciding with the penumbral lunar eclipse in Libra, the altar of redemption. It is my understanding that Charles serves as a placeholder for his eldest son, the anti-christian son-type of the coming unholy trinity. Let us not be tempted to choose or follow worldly kingdoms, rulers, perishing crowns or temporary rewards and inheritances.

Our hearts and eyes are focussed on the Lord!

This occurs once in every synodic cycle of the planet (116 days), marks the end of Mercury's apparition in the evening sky and its transition to become a morning object over the next few weeks.

At closest approach, Mercury will appear at a separation of only 0°42' from the Sun, making it totally unobservable for several weeks while it is lost in the Sun's glare.

Mercury will also pass perigee – the time when it is closest to the Earth – at around the same time, since it will lie on exactly the same side of the Sun as the Earth in the Solar System. It will move to

While aurora's are on the rise, these are still local (US). Worldwide aurora's, dazzling lights and red skies will be visible as a warning sign before the Exodus 2.0 plagues.

You can track them here.

Be mindful to discern the explanations given and take even 'expert' warnings to the Lord in prayer.

SPACE STORM: A CME hit Earth on April 23rd, sparking a magnetic storm. Auroras spread across Europe as far south as London from brightly-lit cities such as Berlin and Kraków. Also being reported from China. At the time this alert is issued (10:00 UT on April 24th) the storm is still underway, and auroras are visible in all northern-tier US states. Full story @

Matters of our heart

The strength I draw from the stories on this week's calendar, is to learn to more fully rely on the Lord's personal leading, care and provision, while I'm being renewed and repositioned, tried and matured. As Joshua was required to be come into a closer alignment with the Lord, and was clothed anew before stepping into his inheritance with his people, so were David and his men. The Lord called them to completely surrender their lives, including close relationships, their sources of strength and provision, and prior occupations to humbly petition the Lord to guide them forward and sustain them by faith on a daily basis.

Like those encircling Jericho, we're in the process of encircling strongholds the enemy raises up to prevent us from seizing our eternal inheritance and extending the Lord's grace and mercy to others, as he seeks to use us in his harvest of souls. The Lord is asking me to carefully consider what these are in my life and submit to his healing, deliverance and strengthening more fully. Fear of inadequacy, lack and rejection keep resurfacing and the Lord is asking me to humble myself and follow his leading more closely, to walk by faith each day, not seeking to go ahead of him or move in self-reliance, which I tend to do.

As one type of wall comes down on our calendar, another one is raised. Once enemy fortifications around our hearts and minds crumble by faith in his redemptive power and the Lord light is invited in to bring healing, deliverance and renewal, we're assured that all that is upheld by the Lord will remain and be sustained. Rahab's household, positioned within the very walls of an enemy stronghold, was upheld amidst the turmoil until she could safely leave the once sustaining walls behind her! Her scarlet thread of redemption proved stronger than any material force of destruction and the Lord's promises to her, by faith, shockproof. Even amidst mass destruction and shakings perceived with our natural senses, the Lord's precision of judgment is infallible and his eyes are on his sparrows. Like the priestly barley harvest, she was set apart, drawn with cords of love, evident in her expressed faith.

And then, the Lord's heavenly wall. To me, looking the beautiful stillness and structure of his heavenly wall and trying to discern his rhythmic writings thereon, help me quiet my often restless mind and encourage my heart. They speak of his redemption and everlasting love both timelessly and timely, of his covering in light, of his meticulous planning, in stillness, beauty and glory. By looking his heavens, the Lord can break my heart open as he speaks to me in a way I can see and hear and experience closely, which is a tremendous struggle at times.

It's like when you are physically separated from a loved one and by looking at the same heavens at night, you can be reunited in mind and heart, share one space of thought, and physical distance even time itself that separates you, disappears.

Prophetic words By Julie Wedbee:

This prophetic word fits our current timeframe of the siege on Jericho, as does this recent one. This prophetic word clarifies the barley harvest as the Lord's overcomers in Christ. In this prophetic word the different end times groups are also distinguished.

The resources below are available if you'd like to verify the information on the calendar for its accurate placement or dive deeper into a particular story and perhaps uncover hidden beauty or meaning by the Spirit's leading. It is not required reading – at all – and may come across as overwhelming or burdensome because of the volume. If so, I sincerely apologize.

- A shortage of barley (disappearance of the bride) implies spiritual and physical hunger Revelation 6:6.

David arrives at the priests of Nob

After the harmonious covenant between David and Jonathan, a clash of kingdoms follows regarding Saul

I understand the account in 1 Samuel 21 could be placed on the calendar this coming sabbath, right after the recent solar eclipse (reflecting the meeting between David and Jonathan in 1 Samuel 20) and the subsequent new Moon banquet, where David is absent from Samuel's table (1 Samuel 20). I understand that David is no longer a high ranking military official under Saul's command, but is recommissioned by the Lord as a priest in the order of Melchizedek (affirmed by Jonathan) to be strengthened and confirmed by Ahimelech. David and his men foreshadow the two end times armies of Revelation 14 and 7.

Reading the Scriptures and commentaries on chapter 19 to 21.

- In Chapter 19 the Holy Spirit fell on Saul. This is likely the final extension of the Lord's grace for the once anointed leader who has turned his heart from God and seeks to harm the anointed David and anyone who side with him, even his son (resembling political, clerical leaders on our time). The Lord beckons him to repent and wholeheartedly turn back to him before judgment would fall and his spiritual and worldly authority would be transferred. Saul's repentance is short lived.
- Chapter 20 speaks of a new Moon banquet (perhaps signified by last week's eclipse reflecting the beloved/David and covenant partner/Jonathan meeting in the barley harvest fields) and the enemy's hatred targeting even their own being exposed (cross-referenced in the household division in Luke 21:16-17)
- Chapter 21 appears to start David's divine mission. Mark 2:26 confirms David had some of his men with him on what is implied to be a holy mission (1 Sam 20:22 and 1 Sam 21:2).
- The sabbath (when the shewbread was refreshed) is also spoken of in Mark 2:26, the account where the Lord declares himself Lord of the Sabbath and the disciples handpicked or gleaned some grain (most likely barley, the 'pour men's grain') which was 'in the ear' and was permitted to be gleaned as by this time the first fruits priestly offering had been waved (in the case of barley that was on the first day after the sabbath after unleavened bread per Lev 23, which we've just passed) and gleaning was permitted in case of hunger.
- Prophetically, the hand-picking could also refer to the first end times harvest by the 144K, the spiritual first fruits operating in the order of Melchizedek, like David would from chapter 21 onward.

- David was given priestly shewbread (5 loaves, perhaps indicative of the 5 wise virgins and priestly portion) and the sword by which he had severed Goliath's head. These means were authorized by the Lord whom Ahimelech had consulted (1 Samuel 22:10).
- In this brief study (a rabbinical perspective) the two kingships of Saul and David are analyzed, as David's kingdom is destined to clash with Saul's at the onset of God's kingdom being established, symbolized by the arrows Jonathan shoots. This clash of kingdoms appears to align with the judgment of the fig tree and the kingdom authority being given to the Lord's disciples at the time of the triumphal entry and the Lord commissioning and empowering his elect upper roomers, spiritually.
- 1 Samuel 21 | David receives the consecrated bread on a sabbath as a priest and king in the order of Melchizedek
- Regarding the five loaves of holy bread David was given, we may draw a parallel with this Old Testament account. Among the Lord's wise women were the daughters of Zelophehad (meaning 'firstborn of the father') who petitioned Moses for their rightful inheritance by faith after their father's death (Numbers 27, 36). After their entry into the promised land, they petition Joshua to uphold Moses' ruling. The battle of Jericho is Israel's first collective claim on the land. In the heavens these five wise daughters are associated with the Hyades cluster in Taurus the Bull. These wise virgins fulfilled the prophecy of Jacob (Genesis 49:22) as the fruitful branches exceeding expectations (running over the wall). To us, called to be wise virgins also, we are called to actively strive toward our heavenly inheritance during our earthly wilderness wanderings and promised land battles also (Matthew 11:12, Romans 2:7, Galatians 3:26-28, Revelation 12:5a and b).
